Detailed Action

Objection to the Disclosure

37 CFR 1.163

The following is a quotation of section (a) of 37 CFR 1.163:

(a) The specification must contain as full and complete a disclosure as possible of the plant and the characteristics thereof that distinguish the same over related known varieties, and its antecedents, and must particularly point out where and in what manner the variety of plant has been asexually reproduced. In the case of a newly found plant, the specification must particularly point out the location and character of the area where the plant was discovered.

35 USC 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

As specific to United States Plant Patent applications, the specifics of 37 CFR 1.164 (reproduced below) are controlling:

The claim shall be in formal terms to the new and distinct variety of the specified plant as described and illustrated, and may also recite the principal distinguishing characteristics. More than one claim is not permitted.

Detailed Action

In plant applications filed under 35 U.S.C 161, the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are limited. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 162:

No plant patent shall be declared invalid for noncompliance with section 112 of this title if the description is as complete as is reasonably possible. The claim in the specification shall be in formal terms to the plant shown and described.

The disclosure is objected to under 35 CFR 1.163(a) and under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification presents less than a full, clear, and complete botanical description of the plant and the characteristics which define same per se and which distinguish the plant from related known cultivars and antecedents.

More Specifically:

A. Page 1, line 5, Applicant should place single quotation marks around "Danchryatpink" as this is the proper way to set forth a cultivar designation.

B. Page 1, lines 10-13, The origin of the instant plant is unclear. Applicant states the new cultivar originated "from a spontaneous mutation". It is unclear whether the instant plant arose as a "spontaneous mutation" or the instant plant arose from a spontaneous mutation. Correction and/or clarification is necessary. If the instant plant arose as a spontaneous mutation, applicant should set forth whether the instant plant arose as a "naturally occurring" mutation or an induced mutation. If induced, applicant should set forth in the specification the methodology used to arrive at the instant plant. Further, applicant sets forth a female parent. This is not understood especially as applicant originally stated the instant plant was a mutation. This would lead one to believe the instant plant originated from either an open pollination or a specific cross. Correction and/or clarification is necessary. The origin of the instant plant must be unambiguously set forth.

C. Page 1, lines 11 and 12, It appears the U.S. Plant Patent application set forth has matured into U. S. Plant Patent number 15,045. Applicant should verify whether this is accurate and if accurate correct the information set forth on these lines in the specification.

D. Page 3, line 10, Applicant states plant shape is "Corymb". This term typically describes an inflorescence. It is not clear how the entire plant shape can be described as "Corymb". Correction and/or clarification is necessary.

E. Page 3, line 14, Applicant should set forth whether the lastingness is on or off the plant.

F. Page 4, line 17, Applicant should delete "Flowers" as applicant has already stated Quantity of "inflorescences" on the same line.

Detailed Action

G. Applicant should set forth in the specification information relative to the instant plant's phyllaries including the typical and observed phyllary number, shape, length, width, apex, base, and margin descriptors, and coloration (both surfaces) with reference to the employed color chart.

H. Page 6, lines 14 and 17, Applicant states "Seeds: Achene" and seed shape is "Achene". Achene is a name of fruit that contains seed. Therefor, the recitations above appear to be incorrect. It appears "Achene" should be deleted at both lines. Applicant should set forth in the specification a seed shape.

I. Applicant should set forth in the specification where the androecium and gynoecium are located, for example, androecium on disc florets only and gynoecium on ray florets and disc florets.

The above listing may not be complete. Applicants should carefully review the disclosure and import into same any corrected or additional information which would aid in botanically identifying and/or distinguishing the cultivar for which United States Plant Patent protection is sought.

Detailed Action

Claim Rejection

35 U.S.C. 112, 1st & 2nd Paragraphs

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first and second paragraphs as not being supported by a clear and complete botanical description of the plant for the reasons set forth in the Objection to the Disclosure Section above.
